*The name of the LORD is a strong tower;
the righteous run into it and are safe.*

Proverbs 18:10

In the book of Proverbs we find wise sayings attributed to King Solomon. Growing up I neglected this book, however about the time Noah was born I began to explore it. It's not that I had never read it, or studied it. I had not digested it, and what I found was nothing short of amazing when I sat down with Proverbs. There were little one liners I could think about all day as I went about my business.

As I think about our summer at OSLC, Proverbs 18:10 comes to mind. Our Lord is a strong tower, and God has graciously watched over this congregation for a number of years. Most recently God has been guiding OSLC through this transition as I begin as your new Lead Pastor. One of my biggest learning this summer has been how pastoral transition is not congregational transformation. That is to say, conventional thinking believes the arrival of a new person, or group, signals transformation of the whole. But what has become so clear to me this summer is how that is not the way transformation works. Transformation happens when people discern what God is doing in their lives, and where God is moving in the community.

Brothers and Sisters the Lord is our strong tower, and in that tower we will always be safe. We have witnessed that to be true at OSLC. In the midst considerable transition in the past 2 years OSLC has remained faithful to God. The question now before OSLC is: How will OSLC allow this transition to transform it and Issaquah? Will you trust God is up to something? Will you trust God enough to follow wherever He leads? Will you be a community that fearlessly follows Jesus?

This is a time of transformation for OSLC, and I am excited to serve here. As a community that has always found safety in the name of the Lord, I know you will all continue to do so. I encourage you to think about how you will continue this legacy as you follow God into mission in Issaquah.

In Christ,

Pr. Telyea

Update –

By: Judi Case, Council President

Stand at the crossroads and look...ask where the good way is, and walk in it, and you will find rest for your souls. Jeremiah 6:16

Council recently held a retreat to prayerfully determine a clear vision of worship life at OSLC. Led by Pastor Telyea, we examined our own life journeys, and reflected on significant turning points as well as major painful times that were both positive and negative. These tools were helpful in our personal commitment to create a loving environment of worship and community at Our Savior. Together, Council discussed the results of our Town Hall meetings, and learned that our congregation is ready to begin a new journey down a new path. We have been standing at the crossroads for quite some time, and the kinetic energy has been building. Council believes we are ready to unleash this energy and fearlessly follow Christ in Word and Sacrament. We spent some time on understanding what a missional church looks like, and began to consider OSLC as a church in mission. We then began to outline our vision and values. We also discussed metrics—how we will judge our successes and failures as we act out the vision of fearlessly following Christ. Council will be refining the vision and metrics for our worship future over the next month. We look forward to sharing this with you all at the November congregational meeting.

I am always impressed at the thoughtfulness and intentionality of our community in recognizing, caring for, and making the best use of the gifts we've been entrusted through Christ Our Savior. In my mind, serving on Council offers a great opportunity to share gifts of time and talents. I ask you all—what does being a leader at OSLC mean to you? Are you ready to share your gifts with others? Whether you serve on council or join a committee—I urge you to get involved! It is time for us to elect new council members. The nominating committee has been convened, and they are excited and ready to recruit. These positions are vital to our congregation's well-being and future success. I am inviting you all to help create and shape this future. New paths are opening before us, and we need your help in navigating them. We are indeed at the crossroads as we fearlessly follow Jesus in our new journey with Pastor Telyea.

Please let the members of the nominating committee, myself, or Pastor Telyea know of your willingness to participate on Council. Nominating members are Barbara Extract, (extract22@hotmail.com); Sandy Aldworth (mtnlady@comcast.net); and, Sandy Nygaard (sknygaard@comcast.net).

OSLC Endowment Fund

Of Crystal Balls and Endowment Funds

My crystal ball has been worthless lately. It fogs up if I want to know the results of November's election and grows murky if I ask when the stock market will peak. My inquiries regarding the SeaHawks and Super Bowl 2017, turn it positively dark.

We can't know the future, except to know that one day we will see God face to face. But while we walk the streets of gold, our spiritual descendants at OSLC will still walk a gravel parking lot and see through a mirror dimly. How can we help them in their journey? The new OSLC Mission Endowment Fund is designed to provide a permanent source of funding for youth, community outreach, and other OSLC ministries, but we need action from you to make it a reality. The fund's governing resolution states that it needs to accumulate $40,000 before distributing money. How can you help attain this goal, and promote the continuing mission and ministry at OSLC?

1. Create a bequest to The OSLC mission endowment fund of Issaquah in your will.
2. Write a check!
3. Donate stock
4. Direct your required minimum distributions from your IRA to the fund
5. Designate memorials to the fund
6. Consider making OSLC a beneficiary of a life insurance policy or a retirement account.

These are only a few ways to contribute to the future. When making an estate plan or will, your attorney can make additional suggestions.

For more information on the endowment fund, or for a copy of the plan document, please contact one of the committee members (Justin Ulland, Sandy Nygaard, Connie Fletcher, Bob Brezing, Carl Boruck). The endowment fund can become a powerful force in the future ministry of OSLC, and a blessing to those in need. And I don't need to crystal ball to tell me that.

Sandy Nygaard, Endowment Fund Committee Treasurer

Donations to the Endowment fund as of 6-30-16, $5,569

Earnings year to date at 6-30-16, $55

Balance as of 6-30-2016, $5,624

OSLC's Book Club

November 14th—7:30 p.m.

The next gathering for the Book Club will be on Monday, November 14th at 7:30 p.m. at the Issaquah Barnes and Noble Bookstore. They will discuss the book, The Dive From Clausen's Pier by Ann Packer.

Carrie Bell and her fiancée, Mike Mayer, drive out to Clausen's Pier for a picnic with their friends, a trip they make in grudging silence. Before their resentments can be aired, Mike dives into shallow water, suffering injuries that result in paralysis. Ultimately, Carrie does what is both understandable and unthinkable. She leaves for New York City to find new life. The hovering question--what will Carrie do? Abandon Mike or return to him?--generates genuine suspense.

Church Website Includes Audio From Recent Sermons Preached At OSLC:

www.oslcissaquah.org

OSLC's website includes audio from recent sermons preached at OSLC. Preaching is a central part of our worship life at Our Savior Lutheran Church, as we proclaim God's Word to be a living thing in our lives. Both in the live event and in the days and weeks that follow, we understand preaching to be a conversation between God and the entire gathered community. We invite you to join in that conversation. The audio recording from recent sermons preached at OSLC are available to you on the OSLC website as an invitation to engage God's living Word! Check it out at www.oslcissaquah.org. Click on the Worship and Music tab and follow that to sermons.

OSLC Youth Committee

The Youth Committee has decided to expand its focus from simply youth activities to fostering relationships with the youth and children and helping them feel more connected to our church community. We are planning several activities throughout this year to facilitate this. I read something in a parenting book that has really stuck with me - at a fundamental level, what kids need is to know that they matter and they are contributing in some meaningful manner. Really, this applies to everybody and I think fulfilling this need is exactly what Christ calls all of us to do.

I heard a lot of support for the youth at the town hall meetings this summer. In my time on the Call Committee, I also heard a quieter but just as vital need for many of our older members to have the same needs mentioned above met. Perhaps the answer is in each other. Adults, how often do you have a conversation with any children and youth? Kids, when is the last time you talked to an adult at church other than your parents, your Sunday School teacher, or Pastor Wes?

I recently read about a church that decided it didn't want to be a welcoming church anymore. Welcoming is passive. It waits for people to stop by or offer to do something. Instead, they shifted their focus to being an inviting church. Our children and youth are talented and interesting people who have already offered much, from sharing their musical gifts to working the sound board to cleaning up after the Lenten suppers.

My challenge is for you to consider - and then act upon! - how can you invite our children and youth to engage in the life of OSLC? The Youth Committee is inviting the youth to take a more active role in the youth committee. Wouldn't it be wonderful if it was run by youth and the adults became their mentors? Or, if our next Youth Committee Chair was a youth?

This also doesn't have to be a big thing! A few weeks ago, Genevieve and I were impromptu ushers and I think many of you were just as charmed by her as she was by telling you when it was your turn to go up for communion. Henry likes to push the button to make coffee. What I see them learning is that they matter and they are doing something important. What better gift is there to give our children?

~Manda Schoen, Member of Youth Committee
