From the Desk of Pastor Vaswig

Grace and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

I have enjoyed the time with folks in the Life Together format where we eat, study and sing for those who choose to hang around and do so in the evening session. The format is designed to deepen and broaden both our relationships with each other and our theological underpinnings. It has always struck me as odd, or at least ironic how we divorce theology from everyday life. Especially in the Lutheran tradition, a tradition born in the University we know theology has everything to do with life, indeed deepening our theological understandings is what we are called to as disciples of Christ. I know, as it has been stated in the class, that Bonhoeffer's language is challenging for many as we read Life Together in community. The challenge however, is part of "faith seeking understanding" as St. Anselm put it. Indeed I believe wrestling with text together, hearing and asking questions together is to live the Christian life in community. As we move from a meal where we have asked questions about the day, checking in with one another, we move to a discussion asking additional questions of clarification of the text and the meaning of the text in our context. Finally after that conversation has concluded folks are invited to sing the song together ending the night with music.

I have been delighted to experience this book and this time together in the community. As we peer into the future we hope to continue to find ways to deepen our Christian life together so that we may be one as the Father and the Son are one. It is always a privilege for me as a pastor to spend time in study and conversation with the brothers and sisters. I so enjoy the participation, the questions heartfelt and yes the occasional moments of eye openings. All of it of course living in a community of the Beloved. Peace be with you.

Church Council

From the Council President

Here we go again?

The news is a bit grim about Covid pushing us to more isolation. Pastor Vaswig has repeatedly quoted Mathew 22/39. You shall love your neighbor as yourself. I have a hard time believing, as a Christian, I am not compelled to get the vaccine. We are also told not to judge. I have relatives who have not been vaccinated. I have encouraged them to follow Christ's declaration of the second commandment. They have ignored me. I pray they will come to their senses and not get sick or sicken others. We have had mandatory vaccinations for other diseases for many years.

We are committed at Our Savior Lutheran to staying open. We are doing all the required duties to keep everyone safe. Life as a Christian requires community. It is very hard to love your neighbor in isolation. Video meetings, cards and phone calls are important tools to maintain community. If you are medically able, come to church.

By the time the October Focus has come out we will be half way through the Study of "Life Together" by Dietrich Bonhoeffer. It is never too late to join us on Wednesdays at noon or 5:45pm. The life of the Lutheran Pastor Bonhoeffer should be a point of pride for Lutherans. "Life Together" by Dietrich Bonhoeffer is an inexpensive paperback I got from Amazon. Hopefully you use the Smile section and designate OSLC for a small reward.

I'm approached often by members asking what they can do to improve attendance or having suggestions for the council. My standard answer to these questions is get to know the attendees of our church. That means you got to show up. Be there for the Wednesday fellowships, come to Sunday service, volunteer for outdoor work parties, altar guild, food and clothing drives or other activities our church sponsors. These events are the best opportunities to get to know your neighbor in the next pew over. My wife Wendy and I have made many great friends at OSLC. It has been by being in choir (Wendy), being on council, teaching Sunday School, going to bible studies and pulling weeds outdoors.

With three young grandkids and two more on the way, I understand time limits. We can't be everywhere. We have five more months before we both retire and have been told being retired doesn't give you much more free time. Taking care of each other in Christian community is what will build our church. We will rejoice in good news and suffer together when bad things happen.

Yours in Christ,

In the World Questions?

How many times have you asked, or heard, an “in the world” question during these tumultuous times? What in the world happened? Where in the world did it happen? Who in the world can change this situation for the better? How, in the world, does this impact me? When in the world would I ever have the time or resources to help change things? Why in the world should I even care?

The Global Mission Committee address OSLC’s response to what, where, who, how, when, and why “in the world” questions in response to the Great Commission to go into all the world and manifest the Gospels good news of healing, justice, peace, and reconciliation.

You are cordially invited to be part of the Global Mission Committee’s commitment to craft OSLC’s response to the Great Commission. No special expertise is needed. All that is needed is an interest in, and commitment to, exploring a variety of global ministry needs, options, opportunities and advocating for the congregation’s financial support.

Currently, Global Commission Committee meetings are conducted via Zoom. The committee typically meets monthly and meeting times and dates are flexible. When Covid19 restrictions and health protocols permit, meetings will be in person and can be coupled with Zoom.

Please send any questions you have about the work of the Global Missions Committee and, especially, your interest in being part of its work to: John Stamm – drjmstamm@aol.com.

Thank You!

Our Savior Lutheran Church
745 Front St S
Issaquah WA 98027-4206

Dear Friends,

Thank you for your organization's recent gift of $262.30 to Lutheran World Relief! When you love your neighbors with your generous gifts to LWR, you change lives in amazing ways.

For Walaa Ali al Ali, a Syrian refugee living in Lebanon, your love arrived in the form of a beehive. As the primary breadwinner for her family — including her mother, her developmentally disabled brother, a niece and a nephew — she struggled to find work amid Lebanon's economic crisis. Her family was safe from the war in Syria, but they didn't have access to adequate food or basic medical care.

Through LWR, Walaa enrolled in a livelihoods program for refugees and received all the training and supplies she needed to start a business as a beekeeper. With the money she earned, she also planted a vegetable garden to help feed her family. Now she's earning enough to keep her family afloat, and she's even training other women how to produce and sell honey.

Thank you for saving and transforming lives by loving your neighbors like Walaa!

We'd love to show you more examples of your gift in action. Please visit www.lwr.org and sign up to receive the latest updates. If you have any questions, please contact us at 800.597.5972 or lwr@lwr.org.

Thank you again, and God bless you!

Warm Regards,

Mission Quilters

Join the Fun & Fellowship

No quilting experience? Don't know how to sew? No problem! Mission Quilters welcomes new members. It's not necessary to know how to sew or quilt to participate.

Join us on Thursday mornings 9:30 am until 12:00 noon in the fellowship hall, and assist us in making quilts. We make simple patchwork quilts that are donated to people in need.

Quilts made by OSLC Mission Quilters are donated to Lutheran World Relief, and are then sent all over the world, frequently to countries following natural disasters such as earthquakes and hurricanes. Quilts are also given to OSLC graduating seniors, to Compass Housing Alliance, and our neighbors at the Issaquah Nursing & Rehabilitation Center.

The group welcomes donations of fabric (preferably cotton) and clean used sheets. Donations to help with the cost of shipping and to buy supplies are also greatly appreciated.

The Spirit

From the Bishop:

At first glance, it does not seem as though Teresa of Avila, noted Spanish Roman Catholic saint from the sixteenth century, would have much to say about today's world. You see, she is well known for her mysticism, her ecstatic prayers, several quotes that she might or might not have said, and her reforms in the church. All of these things are interesting – but what do they have to do with the 21st century and what is happening in the world today? In the last few days, though, I have been thinking about what she writes at the beginning of her work, The Interior Castle.

At the beginning of this book Teresa admits that she is tired. On the first page she writes, "I'm writing this book under obedience and I'm already finding it hard. God hasn't given me any desire for this work, and my head is so full of noise I can barely compose a letter about the most ordinary business, much less a book about prayer."

I am so thankful for Teresa stating it bluntly. Teresa is unsure if she'll succeed, she is not sure she has it in her to do what she is being asked to do, she is nervous and distracted. In other words, St. Teresa sounds a lot like all of us – especially when we are being asked to do something that is different or hard or difficult.

Truthfully, it can be daunting as we continue to navigate this pandemic, as we continue to navigate the changes of the world and the changing church, as we strive to live into what God is calling us to do. It is difficult, as Teresa fully expresses, to push past our fear or our unease or our malaise to do what God is calling us to do. It is pretty impossible to do a new thing without God's help and guidance.

And so, as I reflect on Teresa's difficulties, our difficulties, I am also drawn to scripture – specifically Isaiah 43. In the first part of Isaiah 43 we read:

*But now thus says the Lord,
he who created you, O Jacob,
he who formed you, O Israel:
Do not fear, for I have redeemed you;
I have called you by name, you are mine.
When you pass through the waters, I will be with you;
and through the rivers, they shall not overwhelm you;*

Northwest Washington Synod

*when you walk through fire you shall not be burned,
and the flame shall not consume you.
For I am the Lord your God,
the Holy One of Israel, your Savior.*

The prophet writes that God created us, God formed us. We have no need for fear because God knows each of our names. God calls each of us. We are God's. No matter the circumstance, no matter the trial, no matter the fire. This is what Teresa understood and it is what we cling to when we struggle and when we wonder if we can go on. I invite you to hold Isaiah 43:1-3 closely as we hear these words from Isaiah 43:18-19:

*Do not remember the former things,
or consider the things of old.
I am about to do a new thing;
now it springs forth, do you not perceive it?
I will make a way in the wilderness and rivers in the desert.*

As we hold close the promise that God creates us, forms us, names us, calls us, and holds us, only then can we hear the promise in these words that a new thing, a new day is coming. That God will make a way. May we hold close the words of St. Teresa and the prophet Isaiah. May you feel God's love surrounding you when all seems overwhelming. And may you rise in the strength of the Lord knowing that God's love surrounds you and fills you – and a way is being made as we all go forward together in Christ.

Faith and Everyday Life

¹⁸The Lord is near to the brokenhearted, and saves the crushed in spirit.

Psalm 34:18

I recently visited Rancho La Hermosa orphanage near Primotapia, Mexico. In this orphanage there were more than 20 children, who previously had been living on the streets. The mission of the orphanage is to rescue children from the streets and provide them with school, clothing, food and a future. I saw God's light in these children. I saw them playing and enjoying their summer vacation with clothing, good food, love and care. Ordinary people are donating their time and money to build school rooms and more dorms to continue restoring these children.

Seeing the work the orphanage is doing changes my perspective on how to give back. I realize one week is not enough to really help others. I have been thinking of ways to continue the call to help others. There are many in our communities that need help. My plan is to be able to do that.

This is what God calls the church to do. God calls us to help widows and orphans. To show each child that they are valuable and worthy of love and care. That God has loved them from the beginning of time. God knew about each of them before mom or dad or anyone else. He calls his creation perfect. He never makes mistakes and has a purpose for each of these children.

How has God blessed you and called you to help others? I invite you to ask God to reveal how you can help in your community, your church, or to the ends of the earth.
